BRILLIANT SCENIC EFFECTS.

Electricians Supremest Skill Exercised in Production of Faust.

The exquisite effects obtained by the skillful use of electricity to add effect to scenery and make impressive many scenes in modern plays can be exemplified and proven in the forthcoming elaborate production of Lewis Morrison's new "Faust," in which Lewis Morrison himself appears as Mephisto in this part, at the Academy on Monday night. Fire, lightning, clouds and gorgeous sunset effects are manipulated throughout the play by electrical agency through stereopticans, calciums, kaleidoscopes, olivettes or open box lights, shaded and varied by skilled electricians. The peaceful atmosphere of Marguerite's home and garden, the casting of the shadows of Nuremberg's Cathedral athwart the garden as the sky grows radiant with the setting sun, and the luminous after glow of the twilight is a fine example of the electrician's skill. The dramatic work of Faust, Marguerite and Mephisto gains added value and effect from the ever changing lights. As the curtain descends Mephisto stands silhouetted against a star-lit firmament in the soft moonlight. The Brocken scene, and the beautiful apotheosis are all subjected to various light and shade effects of equal beauty. The scenery for the whole production is fresh from the New York studio, and at no time has "Faust" been so elaborately produced. The chief interest, however, will be centred in the appearance of Lewis Morrison in the part of Mephisto.

BAZAAR TO CONTINUE.

Inclement Weather Makes Another Nigh Possible—Afternoon Also.

Owing to the very inclement weather, it has been decided by the management to continue the Masonic Bazaar in the Temple through this afternoon and to-night, and it is proposed to make the closing event the most enjoyable occasion of all. A large number of fancy articles and the handsome Stieff piano, to go in a popular contest, have not yet been disposed of and for the purpose of closing out all and giving the young people one more evening of real enjoyment, it is proposed to continue the fair as stated.

The attendance last night was larger than might have been expected for the very disagreeable weather, and those present were highly entertained with the many features of entertainment provided. Dancing was in progress in the ball room until a late hour, and the various lodge and refreshment booths did a good business, all things being considered. The opening this afternoon will be at 4 o'clock and all friends are invited.

THE WEATHER; THE CARS.

Yesterday the Most Disagreeable of the Year—Refrigerator Line.

Yesterday was one of the most disagreeable days of the year. The weather was raw and a cold rain all day and night made outdoor life extremely unpleasant. The refrigerator car service of the Consolidated Company, on the city line, had Armour beat to a standstill. Persons forced to take the cars back and forth on business errands or to their homes from down town found the open cars in operation part of the time and the public was in no humor to appreciate the joke that the ice boxes were in competition for the vegetable and strawberry business.

Closed cars are reported to be in process of building somewhere in Philadelphia. It is time they were here and in operation. The company doubtless has a very plausible excuse but excuses are not very comfortable on days like yesterday.

THE DEATH PENALTY

Sentence Passed Upon Adams and Sawyer in the Federal Court Yesterday

NO VERDICT IN SCOTT CASE

Jury Still Out and no Likelihood of Immediate Agreement, It Seems—Question as to Place of Execution—Courts End.

Second only in importance and public interest to the continued failure of the jury in the Federal Court to reach an agreement yesterday in the case of Henry Scott, was the passage of the death sentence upon his shipmates, Arthur Adams and Robert Sawyer, previously convicted of mutiny and murder on the high seas, aboard the ill-fated schooner Harry A. Berwind. While the jury was still out debating upon the life or death of Scott and just after the clock had struck the hour of noon, Judge Purnell with due regard for the solemnity of such an occasion and with much impressiveness, sentenced the men to die on the gallows in this city on Friday, January 26th, of the new year. A motion for a new trial and secondly, one for arrest of judgment had previously been argued by Mr. George Rountree, acting for George L. Peschau, Esq., who is absent from the city, but both motions were overruled and defendants' counsel was given 30 days in which to perfect an appeal, should it be decided to take an appeal.

The prisoners were commanded to stand and dejected, forlorn and nervous, they stood.

"Have you anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced upon you?" inquired Judge Purnell in a voice that betrayed slight emotion.

Arthur Adams, weak-eyed, thin, his jet black, curly hair in sharp contrast with the pale yellow of his face, did not understand and was prompted by Mr. Rountree, his acting counsel. He mumured that he was not guilty. Robert Sawyer was quicker to his feet and answered huskily to the formal inquiry of His Honor. Judge Purnell then prefaced his judgment with the statement that the two men about to be sentenced to death had been arraigned and had plead not guilty, placing themselves upon God and their country; that they had been given a fair and impartial trial and had been represented by learned counsel, but that their country had said they were guilty of murder. He spoke about the unpleasant nature of the duty devolved upon the court, and tenderely advised the men to look to God for forgiveness—to Him who is always ready to hear. Then he said:

"The judgment of this court is that you be taken from here to the jail of this county and confined there until the 26th day of January, 1906, when you will be taken to the place of execution and hanged by the neck until you are dead; and may God have mercy upon your souls."

As a relief to the final judgment Judge Purnell uttered this beautiful sentiment: "I know nothing of your earlier religious training, but I commend you to that God who rules the Sea, the Heaven and the Earth. Only a fool has said there is no God."

Mr. Rountree's motion for a new trial was on the ground that the case had been tried before popular passion had had an opportunity to cool, and also upon the ground that the District Attorney in his argument has made use of an expression, according to the copy of the testimony, that would calculate to prejudice the minds of the jurors and had on cross-examination asked the defendant Adams about some previous trouble that he had had aboard of another ship and which had no connection with the present case, the latter also tending to prejudice the jury. He stated that he had not had an opportunity of reading the entire evidence and had not heard the charge of the court, but that relative to the latter he had understood that it was as fair and as impartial as could have been made. The remaining small number of exceptions was also commented upon.

District Attorney Skinner in reply explained his wide latitude when a defendant offered himself as a witness. Regarding the other exception he said that he had acknowledged his error before the jury and that His Honor had disabused the jury's mind of whatever effect it might have had.

The sentence was then passed and it was ruled that no bond for the appeal, should it be taken, would be necessary. Being British subjects it was rumored on the streets yesterday that the British government would see that the case of the prisoners went up on appeal and that the prisoners' interests would be looked after up to the court of last resort. An investigation, however, disclosed that the British government would only look to the interest of the prisoners as the United States would safeguard the rights of one of its own citizen. Mr. James Sprunt, British vice-consul here, said that before the trial he had called upon the prisoners at their request in the jail and had only gone so far as to see that they had been provided with counsel and had been given a fair trial of which he was satisfied. Further than that Mr. Sprunt had nothing to say. He had received a communication from an uncle of Adams and had urged him to be present, but for some reason he had failed to come.

The Scott Trial.

Although the jury in the case of Henry Scott, the third of the alleged mutineers, has been out now for nearly 36 hours, they have been unable to reach an agreement and the likelihood of a mistrial increases. The jury asked and received no further insiructions from the court yesterday but late in the afternoon sent a communication to Judge Purnell, the nature of which was not made public. The communication was brief. Judge Purnell read it in the clerk's office while he waited yesterday afternoon for a verdict but as soon as he had read it, he destroyed the letter and declined to have any communication whatever with those charged with the important duty. He has signified his purpose of keeping the jury together for some time yet unless a verdict is reached in the meantime and even intimates that it is entirely within the province of the court to take them to Raleigh for an indefinite period, if it seems necessary to meet the ends of justice.

There were various rumors on the street yesterday as to how the jury stood and which of the members were holding out for life imprisonment or acquittal, but it may be stated that any reports whatever of this character are not reliable. Every safeguard has been placed around the jury and not even the bailiff in charge knows how the jury stands.

Instead of being allowed to go to their rooms at The Orton, the jurors were required to remain in the court room all last night and, though the hardship is great, it is believed that those on both sides are determined and that a verdict is yet remote.

As to the Execution.

Judge Purnell's sentence of Adams and Sawyer to be executed in this city gave added interest to the case yesterday and the question of exactly where the prisoners will be put to death was much discussed. During the day a qualified opinion from Attorney General Moody, of the United States, was received, but it simply stated that the execution might take place anywhere in the district and that it need not necessarily take place on a government reservation as has been the opinion all along. It is not unlikely that the consent of the county authorities will be obtained and that the hanging will take place in the county jail yard.

End of the Term.

The term of the United States District and Circuit courts was practically completed with the sessions yesterday and most of the court officials have gone home with the exception of Judge Purnell, Assistant District Attorney Giles, and Office Deputy Marshal Sharp, who are here for the termination of the Scott trial.

The only case tried yesterday was that of H. C. Adams and J. P. Massengill, of Johnson county, charged with illicit distilling. They were represented by William J. Bellamy, Esq., and after trial by jury, were found not guilty and discharged.

Apropos of the Scott trial, it is stated that in case a mistrial results in the present case, the next hearing may be at the term of Federal Court in Raleigh.

STOLE FROM THE POSTOFFICE

Lawrence Dudley, a one-armed white man, who has lately completed a term in the State penitentiary for the larceny of surgical instruments from the office of Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy several years ago, has again come to grief. Yesterday morning he was arrested by Constable Savage on a warrant from Justice John J. Furlong's court, charging him with the larceny of grip sacks, containing government property, from the railway mail clerk's room in the postoffice building.

It appears that yesterday morning Constable Savage went into the postoffice to mail some letters and while there was approached by the janitor of the building, who informed him that on Wednesday night one of the railway mail clerk's grips had been stolen and that on Thursday night another had disappeared in much the same manner. Suspicion pointed to the man Dudley, who only lately returned to the city and who had been found asleep in the basement of the building that same morning.

The last grip stolen was the property of W. J. Dyson, colored, mail clerk on the Wilmington and Columbia run, and to expedite matters, the constable advised that a warrant be sworn out, and upon the same he would proceed imemdiately. When the warrant was placed in the officer's hands, he was not long in locating Dudley and placing him under arrest. He was found in Bloodworth's bar, on South Front street, and Mr. Bloodworth was then holding the suspect until he could get an officer from the City Hall to make the arrest. Dudley had sold the grip, with its contents, the night before for 15 cents. As soon as the constable appeared, Dudley feigned deafness and his communication with the officer was in writing. He confessed the theft and directed Mr. Savage to a trash barrel on the wharf and to a woodyard on Water street, where a part of the contents of one of the grips had been disposed of. After taking the prisoner and recovering the property thus disposed of, the man was locked up in jail for a preliminary trial Monday at 3 P. M., before Justice Furlong. However, Justice Furlong recognizes the right of the United States government in the matter, and if it is decided to take the prisoner in the Federal Court, he has signified his willingness to turn the indictment over to the U. S. Commissioner.

Dudley is a painter by trade, and was once foreman of the old Industrial Works' in the southern part of the city. His wife and one child live in this city, but recently when he returned to the city, she having received tidings that her husband was dead, he found that his wife had been married to another man. It was pending a straightening of these complications that Dudley remained in the city and fell into the serious trouble in which he now finds himself. He excuses his theft of the property from the mail clerk's room, which is always left open, upon the ground that he was drunk and didn't know what he was doing.

FEDERAL BUILDING

Its Inadequacy to Needs of Government Here Emphasized At This Term of Court

COMMERCIAL BODIES TO ACT

All Departments of Service Are Crowded—Proposition to Build Annex Without Impairing Architectural Beauty of Present Structure.

The present term of the United States Court has so fully demonstrated the total inadequacy of the postoffice building in this city to the needs of the government that there has been launched already a movement in the district for an enlargement of the structure and the Star is encouraged to say that there is every prospect that the efforts in this direction will be successful.

Upon the adjournment of the court yesterday, many of the officials discussed the proposition with great enthusiasm and there is no doubt but that the proposed enlargement will receive the hearty and unanimous endorsement of every man of influence who has anything to do with the courts and is acquainted with the prepsing need of greater facilities for this important branch of the government service.

The present building was erected about 1890 at a cost, all told, of about $200,000 and at that time the quarters assigned were amply sufficient for the various departments of the government service in this city, but since that time there has been a growth of quite a hundred per cent. all along the line and the needs of enlarged facilities has been keenly demonstrated within the past year or eighteen months. On the first floor are situated the various departments of the Wilmington postoffice; the second floor is occupied entirely with the various branches of the courts and the third floor is occupied by the United States Weather Bureau, a district station, and the offices of the United States Engineering Corps, in this district. All these branches of the United States government are in crowded quarters and an enlargement is needed to relieve the congestion.

An annex or annexes could be built to the structure without impairing the architectural beauty of the building and it is believed that this will be done. Postmaster Wallace, custodian of the property, is understood to be highly favorable to an enlargement of the building, and it is further understood that the commercial bodies of the city—the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association—will take the matter up at an early date and tender their hearty endorsement and support of the proposition.

THE BRADSTREET OFFICE.

Mr. Lamar Pound, superintendent of the Richmond office of The Bradstreet Company, arrived in the city yesterday to complete arrangements for the opening of an office of his mercantile agency in this city, which, as previously stated, will be in the Southern building. Mr. Pound says the office will open under most favorable circumstances and that he is confident it will do a good business from the start. Mr. Paul B. Lee, of the Richmond office, will be in charge and Mr. Pound says he is an excellent man and thoroughly conversant with the work which he is to undertake. Bradstreet has offices in Charlotte and Greensboro, in this State, and at Charleston on the south and Norfolk on the north. The office here will be a connecting link, so to speak, and will increase the efficiency of the service all through. Wilmington cordially welcomes "Bradstreet" and its new manager, Mr. Lee.

Prisoners for Atlanta.

Seven defendants convicted at the present term of the United States District Court and sentenced to terms in the Atlanta prison were taken to the Georgia city to begin their sentences yesterday afternoon in charge of Deputy Marshals John C. Dockery, E. W. Fuhr and Billy Watkins. Col. Dockery, the Marshal, accompanied the party as far as Hamlet where they will receive another prisoner from the jail at Raleigh—S. W. Scarboro, a white man from Kinston, sentenced at the late Newbern term of court to 18 months for sending an obscene letter through the mails, he being the rural carrier on the route. The prisoners from here were: Lawson Wright, retailing, one year and one day; E. W. Watts, illicit distilling, 15 months; A. C. Davis, perjury, 15 months; Jack Melvin, seven years for the robbery of the postoffice at Clarkton; Jim McLeod, five years for the robbery of the postoffice at Old Hundred; Shepard Wright, retailing, one year and one day; Burwell Hawes, retailing, illicit distilling and intimidation, two years. More than half of the prisoners are from Columbus county.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Saturday Morning, Nov 11.

SENATE AGAINST THE PRESIDENT.

The Senators are keeping mighty mum and from what they are not saying it is hard to tell whether they are with or against President Roosevelt in his proposed railway rate legislation. Senator Chandler, however, says the Senate is not in favor of the President's policy and probably the Senator knows what he is talking about. The Washington Post is authority for what Mr. Chandler says about it, and by the way the Post makes this interesting comment about it:

"We have in this country what we call party government but it is not that complete party government they have in England, and can never be under our Constitution, which provides for a separation of the Executive and the legislative, and which makes the United States Senate a check on public opinion. For instance, if, one year from now, the people should elect a House of Representatives overwhelmingly in favor of tariff reform, that would be public opinion, but there would be no tariff reform. A Republican Senate will never pass a tariff bill sent it by a Democratic House.

"But the Senate has been reached by public opinion, and will be again. In 1893, when his second administration was in its honeymoon, Mr. Cleveland convened Congress to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman silver law. There never was one moment when the Senate, as the Senate was then constituted, was in favor of the President's financial policy; but public opinion was behind Mr. Cleveland, and after a tremendous battle of weeks and weeks the Senate responded to public opinion and agreed to the bill. True, it split the Democratic party, but it showed that the people could be stronger than the Senate.

"The only way a President can successfully contend against a hostile Senate is to enlist the people on his side. Mr. Roosevelt must make the rate bill paramount, even as Cleveland made the tariff paramount his first administration, and silver paramount his second, if he expects to get anything out of the Senate. William E. Chandler, who knows the Senate from crown to heel and from skin to marrow, says but three Senators are with the President on his rate proposition, and one of them a Democrat.

"It is an immense question, and when one sets about a study of it, it is only then that he discovers what a complex and chaotic problem it is. There are arguments as long as a fence rail and as big as a mile post on both sides of it, and the thing is not going to be solved at one session of Congress. Neither is it going to be settled by demagogues. It requires the profoundest and purest statesmanship of the whole country.

"But the people are behind the President, and ultimately the Senate must agree with the President or convince the people they are in error. The wine is drawn and somebody has got to drink it."

The question is indeed a more immense one than most people have stopped to think of. The issue is squarely up, however, and the House and the Senate will have to meet it. When the discussion opens up we are rather inclined to think some people will get a good deal more enlightenment on the subject than they now have. Many convictions now held on the subject will be upset when the gladiators in the Congress cross swords on a question which involves a radical change in the policy of the Federal government.

TRIMMERS AND DODGERS.

The Columbia Record says:

"A writer in Success says that less than 5 per cent. of the bills introduced in Congress relate to public business. Instead, they have to do with matters bearing directly or indirectly on the Congressman's hope of renomination and re-election. The same thing characterizes legislatures, the South Carolina legislature amongst them. The next legislature has some most important questions to consider, but next year is primary year. There will be dodging and trimming on all matters which may have effect on the political fortunes of members and their friends aspiring for office. A flood of bills will be introduced for no other reason than the favorable effect they will be supposed to have on the political future of the authors. This annually costs taxpayers thousands of dollars, but they hardly realize it."

Nothing is said of the Congressmen and legislators who manage to get "leave of absence" when they think a bill is coming on for a vote in which they do not care to show their hand. More than ever the people are going to give their adherence to men who will "stand to the rack, fodder or no fodder.' The people demand men of convictions—but, shucks, Senators might think we are casting a slur on them if we refer to "convictions" without saying, Not the court kind.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—For the second time within easy memory, the timidity of New York Republicans, reinforced by the selfishness of outwardly respectable members of the party anxious to continue in the enjoyment of illegal and unjust privileges through the favor of the Tammany machine, has given victory to a divided foe.—The Tribune.

—It is worth remarking that among the first telegrams announcing the triumph of the reform party in Philadelphia was one sent to President Roosevelt. He might keep it on his desk where Senator Penrose can see it when visiting the Executive Office on errands connected with Pennsylvania patronage.—Washington Post.

—The Northern mazagines seem determined to take Mr. Clarence E. Poe, editor of The Progressive Farmer, out of the State. He has gone to New York to see if he cannot arrange it so that he can do magazine work and at the same time remain in Raleigh. We hope he will succeed, but doubt it. This is one ring in which a man cannot ride two horses.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—The fact has been noted that all counties along the North Carolina border have voted out the dispensary except Greenville and Chesterfield, and the former county will likely close the gap further when the dispensary election is held. Liquor dealers in adjoining North State counties view the South Carolina situation with a great deal of satisfaction, no doubt.—Columbus Record.

—The future of Murphy, like his past, is largely a matter of speculation. But a majority of the district leaders, who are his constituents, are known to have been in favor of his unconditional acceptance of Mr. Jerome as the Tammany candidate, the only kind of acceptance Mr. Jerome would have. These district leaders may justly consider and argue that, if that nomination had been made, the precarious plurality of less than four thousand for McClellan might very easily be a comfortable plurality of 20.000 or more. The difference, they may reason, is due to the pig-headedness of the Boss. If this view prevails the boss-ship of Murphy is precarious.—New York Times (Ind.)

The people of New York have not been scourged for their sins by the election of a mayor of the Hearst type. But they have been solemnly and emphatically warned. The swift massing and formidable alignment of a vote of protest that strained every effort of the conservative strength of the city to defeat at the polls point a lesson which no cynical public service corporation and no subservient and venal politician can ignore. Mr. Hearst's election would have been a calamity. His tremendous showing in the ballots may be considered as a blessing in disguise. It nangs a red flag—the flag of danger, not of anarchy—over the path in which the city was treading.—New York Main (Rep.)

TWINKLINGS.

—Jacob had almost completed his fourteen years of service for Rachel. "It's all right," he said. "She's worth it. I wouldn't trade jobs with McCurdy himself."—Chicago Tribune.

—"What do you think of this reform wave." "It's a good thing," answered Senator Sorghum. "It retires some of the old-time bosses from business and makes room for promotions."—Washington Star.

—"They say the race is growing smaller every year," observed the scientist, gravely. "That doesn't cut any figure!" chirped Busyman. "Nowadays a man is measured by the size of his pocketbook!"—Detroit Free Press.

—"This is the country for ideas and inventions," remarked the affable foreigner. "Sure," answered the New York ward worker. "We have shown 'em tricks with the Australian ballot that Australia never dreamed of."—Washington Star.

—"Jim," said the department store manager, 'you know that lot of open-work ladies' stockings left over from last summer?" "Yes, sir." "Mark 'em up 50 per cent. and label 'em 'Common Sense Winter Hosiery.'"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—"Dat's a mighty smaht mule, anyhow," said Mr. Erastus Pinkney as he sat down on the curbstone. "But you can't make him obey you." "No. I speck he mus' er been hyurin' somebody readin' de paper. I kin hyar 'im sayin' under his bre'f dat he ain' gwinter stan' foh no negro domination."—Washington Star.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, Nov. 10.—The cotton market today was extremely active, sales being estimated at fully a million bales while fluctuations were very rapid and comparatively violent. The government's condition report issued at noon caused a very sharp break in prices from which there was a comparatively slight recovery toward the close, with prices finally steady at a net decline of 17 to 22 points. The opening was firm at an advance of 2 to 7 points in response to higher cables and the continued big spot business in the English market. Wet weather was also reported from all over the belt, but the initial bulge attracted heavy realizing and with a good deal of uncertainty with regard to the showing and influence of the government's condition report at midday, the market sagged off during the morning to a decline of about 5 to 6 points with March selling around 11.55. Inside of five minutes after the report was issued, March touched 11.35 or 25 points net lower, and in another five minutes had rallied to 11.63 or just about 3 points net higher. This was followed, however, by renewed weakness as the report was circulated and outside selling orders for long account were received, with prices in the afternoon at about the low point of the session. Actives were about 4 to 6 points up from the lowest at the close on room covering and there was active buying all the afternoon on reports of a strong spot situation. The government's report made the average condition 68.8 against 71.2 per cent. last month.

THE DRY GOOD MARKET.

New York, Nov. 10.—The dry goods market today grew more intense from the buyers stand point and increasing difficulty was experienced in securing either satisfactory prices or deliveries.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 10.—Sales in the printcloth market for the week are estimated at about 125,000 pieces. The demand for goods during the week has been somewhat better than the sales would show but owing to the indisposition of many of the mills to be free sellers at present prices, the total output had been held down from what it otherwise might have been. Prices have continued practically unchanged, regulars being quoted at 3 5-8 and wide 64s at 5c.

—The congregation of the First Baptist church of Fayetteville, are enjoying this week a series of lectures from able speakers, among them being Revs. W. B. Oliver and F. D. Hale, Prof. J. B. Carlile and Dr. W. H. Battle.

—The Weekly Tar Heel, Congressman Blackburn's paper, made its appearance in Raleigh Thursday night in 16-page form. It announces T. B. Eldridge, now news editor of The Industrial News, Greensboro, will be managing editor.

—A complaint has been filed at Raleigh with the corporation commission by F. A. Woodard in behalf of the business men of Wilson against the Carolina Telephone Company for bad local service and long distant connections with the Southern Bell Company.

—The Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce has invited the officers of the Cumberland county agricultural society to a conference on the fair, with a view to putting the fair on a better footing, increasing the premium list, and enlarging the scope and value of the annual exhibitions.

—At Salisbury a few days ago, an unknown, but well dressed white man with good appearance, palmed off a worthless $10 note on a colored Bible agent in the streets of Salisbury for a five cent testament, for which he received $9.95 in good money in change. The bill was a one dollar note raised to $10.

—The Southern Manufacturers' Club of Charlotte through Mr. D. A. Tompkins, president, is making preparations to entertain and offer the hospitalities of the club to President Samuel Spencer, and his party of directors of the Southern Railway, during their visit to and stay in Charlotte early next week.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. Watt Cooper, of Sharon was in the city yesterday, selling some very fine peavine hay. He disposed of 175 bales at 75 cents. The farmers of Mecklenburg are turning their thoughts and efforts to hay and within the last few years some very excellent stuff has been sold on the local market. The prices are generally good and the demand everlasting.

—Fayetteville Observer: The Southern Cotton Oil Company has perfected arrangements for the erection of a fertilizer plant here, as an addition to their splendid cotton seed oil mill, which is located in Campbellton. The contracts have been let for the erection of the plant, and work will begin within thirty days. Thus one industry brings on another, and all to the benefit of our growing city.

—Arnold Hoffman & Co., a big chemical supply house of Providence, R. I., will open offices in Charlotte. Mr. L. W. Buck will have charge of the charlotte branch. Five or six men will travel that section and it is just a question of time until the concern makes Charlotte a distributing point for the entire South. Arnold Hoffman & Co. have branch offices in Boston and other Northern cities, but nowhere in the South.

—Mr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, announces that the trustees of the State library from Raleigh, have placed at his disposal 500 copies of the North Carolina Regimental Histories of the war between the States to be distributed among the rural school libraries, six in each county where there are as many as twelve libraries established, the distribution to be made by the county superintendents.

—Fayetteville correspondence: Messrs. S. H. McRae and H. L. Cook are in New York, taking depositions in the alleged embezzlement cases of the bank of Fayetteville. When Judge Fred Moore finishes his two weeks' term of court in Robeson county he will return here to hold Cumberland Superior Court for criminal cases. Many do not believe that either side will be ready in the bank cases, and that there will be another continuance.

—Greensboro Industrial News: The Kenilworth Prints is the title of a monthly magazine edited by Lewis Francis Hanes, a photographer of this city. The first issue is just from the press, and it is a neat and interesting publication. Mr. Hanes announces in his salutatory that the magazine will be devoted to the beautiful, and the first issue certainly measures up to the announcement. In addition to several interesting stories the magazine contains a number of handsome photo-engravings.

—Charlotte Observer: The Ram's Horn prints the following: "The dispensary at Raleigh, N. C., beats Bishop Potter's subway saloon. It is managed by W. N. Jones, deacon of the Baptist church; J. S. Mills, Sunday school superintendent of the Christian church; W. N. Snelling, steward of the Methodist church. The staff of bar-tenders are W. P. Batchelor, Episcopal; A. J. Hellwing and George Norwood, Baptists." In a financial way it is also far ahead of the bishop's institution, paying a large dividend, while the New York enterprise was forced to the wall and had to be sold.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE

Most children have weak kidneys.

The earliest warning is bed-wetting.

Later comes backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles,

To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to cure the kidneys—

Save the child from deadly kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Wilmington parents recommend them.

J. T. Ebert, formerly of 515 South Sixth stret, mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her Kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and in fact, Doan's kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Coal -- Wood -- Coal

A Convenient Way to Buy Coal.

We have a constantly increasing number of customers who purchase their Winter's coal supply as they are able. When they have the price they buy a ton, pay for it, and have it sent home. A little later on they get another tton and so on until their full supply is all in. Doing it this way the weight of the whole purchase is not felt. At the same time they have their fuel supply laid in and paid for ready for use before the Winter comes.

If you cannot order your whole supply at once try this plan. We are as pleased at receiving an order for one ton and give the same attention as one for a large quantity.

Anthracite Egg	$6.50 per ton
Anthracite Stove	6.50 per ton
Anthracite Chestnut	6.50 per ton
Best Tennessee Jellico Lump Coal	5.50 per ton
Best Virginia Lump Coal	5.00 per ton

Advice to Merchants and Farmers

Do you know when you buy any grade of Guano? It's simply an adulteration, a small per cent of which is blood and bone, which is the superior ingredient, but when you purchase FISH SCRAP, you get nothing but pure FLESH, BLOOD & BONE. The above assertion we guarantee and can prove. Therefore FISH SCRAP has no equal as a Fertilizer. NEW YORK ELECTION NEWS

Twelve Indictments Against Offenders Hearst Offers $10,000 for Evidence to Convict Tammany Leaders.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 10.—Ten indictments for violations of the election law, and two for assaults committed at the polls at the election last Tuesday, were today drawn up by the grand jury.

It was said tonight that Attorney General Mayer and State Superintendent of Elections Morgan had instituted a searching investigation of the alitine quarantine and the control of continued until the Legislature meets.

The Attorney General and Mr. Morgan tonight examined a number of witnesses in connections with the frauds and also conferred with Henry E. Yonge, special counsel for Mr. Hearst, and discussed plans to prosecute persons against whom charges may be brought.

The situation today was described by William R. Hearst as follows:

"The law committee has discovered some very amazing things and the deeper we go into this thing the uglier it looks. We have evidence against 12 district leaders and I am confident we shall send two or three of them to prison. I am just as much interested in the criminal prosecution of this case as I am in the recount. In this case it makes no difference whether I am elected or not in comparison with the greater duty of sending criminals to jail.

"It was for this purpose, Mr. Hearst added, "and to strengthen the evidence against a certain district leader that I made an offer of $10,000 reward today for such evidence. We have at least sufficient evidence to prove the necessity of a recount, and I believe that recount will show a difference of 20,000 votes in my favor."

Here Mr. Hearst said that many letters had been received by his managers, purporting to show that men from Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey had come to New York on election day and after voting fifteen or more times for the Tammany ticket, for which they received a five dollar note each time, returned to their homes.

President Vorhis of the board of elections today said the talk about missing ballot boxes was foolish. The board, he said knew how many boxes it gave out and as far as he knew all that should have come back have been received. He declared that the story about ballot boxes being found in the river is all false.

It was announced at Tammany Hall today that Tammany district captains have secured evidence showing frauds committed by Hearst's supporters on election day. Several leaders said that while a recount might lessen McClellan's vote the counter charges of fraud which they intend to bring against the Hearst organization will likewise bring the lessening of the Hearst vote and that in this way an equal reduction will be made in the votes which will not affect the result. An offer was made in Wall street today to bet $10,000 against $50,000 that W. R. Hearst will be seated as the next mayor of New York.

Two ballot boxes were found today in a barber shop at 156 Third avenue, one of them full of half soiled and torn ballots, and the other empty. This barbershop was the polling place of the first election district of the eighteenth assembly district, which is the district of which Charles F. Murphy, head of Tammany Hall, is the leader. Hearst watchers found the two boxes.

NAVAL ACADEMY TRAGEDY.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The President has called upon Secretary Bonaparte for a report on certain features of the case of Midshipman Branch who died at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, after a glove fight with another midshipman. Admiral Sands, superintendent of the acadamy, has been directed by the Secretary to make a special report covering the specific matter upon which the President desires information.

Secretary Bonaparte to-day held a long conference with Admiral Sands, when the facts developed in connection with the affair, and the course of action to be pursued was discussed. At the conclusion of the conference, it was stated, that no action had been determined upon, although, it was indicated that there might be a statement from an official quarter to-morrow.

It was stated that according to information before the department, in indications were that the deaths of Midshipman Branch was caused by repeated blows on the head, and that, in the opinion of medical men, it could not have been caused by a single blow.

Secretary Bonaparte said to-day that the practice of fighting at the academy was very objectionable, and would be discouraged, but added that what steps would be taken were yet to be determined. The civil authorities have not sought to intervene in this case.

STOLE $100,000 WORTH OF GEMS.

Thief Received Only $5,000 for Loot from Pawnshops.

New York, Nov. 10.—Confession to the robbery of $100,000 worth of gems from fashionable New York homes in the last two years was made to-day by Harold Prescott, a painter. His profit on pawning the jewelry. Prescott said, was but little over $5,000. Almost by accident, the painter was arrested in connection with a recent small robbery and the police were ignorant of the value of their arrest until at his arraignment to-day, Prescott said that his thefts could not be concealed much longer and then confessed. Immediate search was made of pawnshops he named, and the police say they have recovered $20,000 worth of the stolen gems already. Prescott obtained entrance to the houses he robbed by securing employment in them as a painter. Prescott was later sentenced to five years in Sing Sing.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF QUARANTINE

Southern Conference Ignores States Rights as Having No Bearing on Question

UNIFORM LAWS BY STATES

Foreign Immigration Favored, But Under Restrictions That Will Keep Out Undesirable Classes—Immigration Bureaus.

By Wire to The Morning Star

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Fourteen Southern States today through their Governors, Senators, Congressmen and other representative citizens, made their wishes known as to the relations of States to the Federal government in the matters of quarantine and immigration. After a discussion of two days the Southern Conference on Quarantine and Immigration ignored the construction of the doctrine of States rights, which it was sought to apply to the questions at issue. Congressman John Sharp Williams, as chairman of the quarantine committee which formulated the resolution upon that branch of the conference work, presented a report which was adopted with but one dissenting vote, that of Senator Mallory of Florida. The resolution requests Congress to enact a law whereby coast, maritime and national frontier quarantine shall be placed exclusively under the control and jurisdiction of the United States government, and that matters of interstate quarantine shall be placed under the control and jurisdiction of the United States government acting in co-operation with the several State boards of health. The resolution also asks that Congress make adequate appropriation to stamp out as nearly as practicable the yellow fever carrying mosquito in its breeding or living places in the United States. A second resolution urges upon the Legislatures of the several Southern States that they enact quarantine regulations as nearly as possible in accord with each other.

Congressman E. J. Bowers, of Mississippi, chairman of the immigration committee, presented the report of that committee which was adopted by the unanimous vote of the convention. The resolution declares that desirable immigration is needed in order to develop the resources of the South and that "all white persons who are willing to subscribe to our laws and who appreciate and love the genius of our institutions" are wanted and would be welcomed. The resolution also say: "We repudiate and denounce as untrue any and all rumors and slanders that may have been circulated to the effect that the South is unfavorable to honest and industrious white immigrants." The resolutions commend the proposed changes in immigration laws for the purpose of excluding undesirable classes and recommend the establishment of immigration bureaus in the Southern States.

Yesterday's Session.

The second day's session of the Southern Conference on quarantine and immigration opened with an increased attendance over yesterday. The conference was called to order by Governor Cox, of Tennessee, who introduced M. J. Sanders, president of the New Orleans progressive union. Mr. Sanders' topic was "Quarantine; Its Commercial Aspects."

Mr. Sanders was strongly in favor of national control of the quarantine regulations, and for a uniform regulation during times of epidemic, but was non-committal as to who should control the latter.

The address of Dr. William F. Brunner, health and quarantine officer of Savannah, Ga., was next called. Dr. Brunner being absent, his paper was filed with the secretary to become a part of the records of the conference.

The paper of Dr. Robert Fulton, president of the University of Mississippi, on "Citizenship; Its Duties and Responsibilities," was not read, but was ordered spread on the records.

The report of the committee on quarantine presented by Congressman John Sharp Williams, recommended the Federal control of foreign and maritime quarantine and the control of inter-state quarantine by the individual States in co-operation with the Federal government. This report was adopted after brief discussion.

The conference then took a recess until 5 o'clock, and started for Chickamauga Park.

On motion of Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, the officers of the convention were instructed to agree on a time and place for a future meeting of the conference with the intent that it shall be made of annual occurrence.

INSURANCE INQUIRY STILL IN PROGRESS

Mutual Life Paid $8,500 to Defeat 16 to 1 Heresy—Big Money for Lobbying.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 10.—Closing the session of the week to-day the Armstrong committee of insurance investigation has behind it a mass of details and figures which, while of apparent little interest to the laity, is of inestimable value to the committee. The greater part of the week has been devoted to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the examinations of President Hegeman and James M. Craig, the actuary of the company, being of a most technical nature.

President Hegeman said that his company had made but two campaign contributions and they were in 1896 when $1,000 was given to the Palmer and Buckner gold Democrat managers and $7,500 to the Republican National committee. These contributions were made, he said, with the approval of the Finance Board, and were a moral rather than a political move to assist in defeating the "16 to 1 heresy."

Mr. Hegeman, also testified that his company had paid money to Andrew Hamilton. A statement was produced showing that Hamilton had received from 1892 to 1904 for services, the sum of $35,295. Hamilton worked in a number of States, and his duties were similar to those he pursued for the insurance companies.

Just before the hour of adjournment to-day, Mr. Hegeman was excused and Joseph Howard, Jr., a writer who has been employed by the Mutual Life, was called to the stand. He identified vouchers that he had signed for money received for writing advertisments and reading notices for the Mutual Life. Mr. Howard afforded much amusement by his declaration that his only regret was that he could not sign more of these vouchers. His only complaint was that he was not paid enough for his work. This, too, was the complaint on the witness stand of Charles Smith, who also does writing for the Mutual Life and receives $8,000 a year for it. Howard had been paid $16,625 since 1899.

William Barnes, Sr., of Albany, who now resides at Nantucket, appeared before the committee at his own request and was the first witness of the day. Mr. Barnes testified that he had received fees for legal opinions and for appearing before the legislative committee for three insurance companies. When his examination had been concluded, he asked to be allowed to make a statement. He was given the privilege and had proceeded, but a little way when he was stopped by Senator Armstrong, because Mr. Barnes' statement was an argument in defense of insurance companies along the lines brought out in the investigation.

HESTER'S COTTON STATISTICS.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY.

Bradstreet's Gives Excellent Report from All Lines.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 10.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say:

Excellent reports still come from nearly all lines of trade and industry, the only flaws being complaints that car congestion in widely separated sections affected prices, collections, cereal, coal and coke and general freight movements and to a certain extent thereby discourages some new orders. Cold weather is still a stimulus to trade, quarantine restrictions have disappeared, filling in orders are numerous, and Spring sales compare well with a year ago. Jobbers and wholesalers report some transference of activity from staple lines to holiday specialties. Manufacturers of these goods are working full time.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS ARE IMPROVING

Disastrous Result of the Sailors' Mutiny at Cronstadt On Wednesday Night

MANY MUTINEERS DEPORTED

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Cronstadt, Nov. 10.—Noon.—All is quiet at Cronstadt. The mutinous sailors have all submitted and the leaders to the number of several hundred have been deported from the island. The others are thoroughly repentent. Troops are pouring into the city from all directions by water. Beside machine guns, other street artillery and a battery of quick firing field guns arrived here on scows from St. Petersburg and were debarked shortly before noon at the steamboat landing. Any further disorder at present is utterly out of the question.

The mutineers and rowdies gutted the Tartar and Jew markets and on Payloff street near the barracks the seventh fort equipage, to which the ten modern business blocks and a number of smaller stores. The fires burned themselves out during the night and today the buildings are only heaps of smoking ruins. The fires burned almost a whole day. There was little attempt to check them as the firemen shared in the general demoralization and many of them became intoxicated.

The great influx of troops at Cronstadt has exceeded the barracks capacity of the war port and soldiers are everywhere bivouacking in the streets, huddling about the remnants of last night's watch fires and bargaining with merchants for fresh bread and other additions to their rations.

The spiteful looking muzzles of machine guns peer through orifices in green painted shields up and down the streets leading to the Cathedral Square and Market Place, grim reminders of the use of one of them by a party of officers on Wednesday night who fired point blank at the mutineers forcing them to fly, broken and disorganized.

The officers' club is a scene of desolation. As soon as the mob obtained the upper hand a crowd ran to the club and bombarded the windows and doors with rifle bullets and stones and wrecked much of the furniture. The rioters, however, did not set fire to the club.

The reports that the mutinous sailors killed some of their officers are not confirmed but it is positively asserted that a number of officers sought safety in hiding or in flight.

LOCAL POLITICS IN MEMPHIS.

Democrats Divided Into Fighting Factions Over Mayoralty.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Complete returns from yesterday's municipal election give James H. Malone, Democrat, 1,299 majority over J. J. Williams, the present incumbent for mayor. The anti-administration ticket also elected every member of the upper and lower boards of the council, city attorney, city register, police judge and three members of the school board.

The election passed off quietly, but late last night in the Second Ward, a riot was narrowly averted between the two factions. Pistols were drawn and in the confusion the ballot box was taken to a nearby building and locked up. Later, it was restored to the election officers. One man was beaten about the face and head.

The administration of the Williams faction, charge that gross irregularities were committed in several of the larger wards, and there is talk of contest.

To-day, Henry Walsh, defeated candidate for city attorney, and B. B. Bowen, one of the election commissioners, came to blows over the election. Bowen's son later became involved in a fracas with Walsh. No serious damage was done.

SENATOR BURTON INDICTED.

Third Found by Grand Jury in Federal Court.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—The Federal grand jury convened to-day and returned an indictment this afternoon against United States Senator Burton, of Kansas. It is stated, that certain features in the former indictment against Senator Burton, which was quashed were remedied in this new indictment.

The allegations in the present indictment are the same as in the one quashed: That while a Senator of the United States, he accepted money from the Rialto Grain and Securities Comapny, of St. Louis, for services rendered before the Postoffice Department in behalf of that company, which was being investigated by inspectors. The only difference is in the legal wording of the indictment, which is changed to avoid errors found in the former indictment by United States Judge VanDeventer.

This indictment is the third found against Senator Burton; and, should a demurrer to this be sustained, it will be impossible to re-indict him for his alleged offence in connection with the Rialto Company, owing to the statute of limitations.

ADMIRAL PRINCE LOUIS TALKS WITH REPORTERS

British and American Fleets Could Demolish New York In Few Minutes—Likes Our Women.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 10.—Rear Admiral Prince Louis, of Battenberg, has captured New York heart and soul. The absolute democracy and unassuming cordiality with which the admiral-prince receives his visitors of high and low degree has made friends for him every minute of his visit here. Had King Edward planned a great diplomatic stroke in sending his armored cruiser squadron to American waters he could not have entrusted the mission to a more competent diplomatist than Prince Louis.

Perhaps the most interesting incident of the second day of his visit to New York was his informal reception of a delegation of New York reporters to his cabin tonight:

"Yes," remarked the Prince, "I am a busy man these days. You people have really been most kind to me. In fact I receive many, many more invitations than I can positively accept. Not only have I many engagements, but my correspondence has doubled. One of your citizens writes to me that he can build a ship which will cross the ocean in three days. Think of it. Some of my letters are from ladies."

"You are not asking me to betray a lady's confidence?" the Prince exclaimed with a twinkle in his eye.

Then for ten minutes the Prince was the target for the usual volley of questions with which every distinguished visitor in New York is met.

"Did he admire the American women?"

"Indeed," he said. The gallant Britisher thought "they could not be improved upon."

Evidently thinking to ask the Prince a question which would evoke an answer out of the ordinary, one of the reporters made bold to ask:

"What does your highness think of the conditions in Russia?"

For a moment there was a pause and then the Prince replied:

"I am a brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas and I am also a rear admiral in the British navy. You are, therefore, getting on thin ice, in fact on no ice at all, and I think I shall not attempt to skate."

"Well then, what does your highness think of New York?" said the reporter. "What has impressed you most?"

"The effect of a war upon a New York," began the Prince slowly, "is what has impressed me most. In less time than it takes my cook to fry an omelet the combined fleets in the river here could reduce New York to atoms. New York needs peace. War would prove most disastrous to this city."

There were three scheduled events on Prince Louis' programme today, the first being a luncheon at Governors Island with Brigadier General Grant. After luncheon the Prince attended a brilliant reception at the New York navy yard, where Rear Admiral Coghlan was the Prince's host. Tonight the Prince and 250 officers of the two squadrons were the guests of the Naval Academy Alumni Association at a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria. The Prince will go to West Point tomorrow where he will witness the football game between West Point and the Carlisle Indians.

The chief athletic instructor of the Drake announced today that during the squadron's stay here there would be a pugilistic contest between sailor Kirby, champion welter weight of the English navy, and sailor Collins, champion welter weight of the United States navy. Kirby is a member of the crew of the Bedford and Collins of the crew of the Kearsarge. The bout will be for a purse of $100 and a cup offered by Prince Louis. The cup is now held by Sailor Cockoyne, champion heavy weight of the English navy who won it at Halifax in a contest with another sailor of the English navy, the cup originally having been a national prize. It will hereafter be an international offering and will be contested for annually.

PLATT SUIT IS DISMISSED.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 10.—The appellate division of the New York State Supreme Court to-day handed down a decision dismissing a suit brought by John R. Platt, against Hannah Elias, a negress, to recover $685,000, which Platt asserted he had given to her under coercion. The court stated in the decision that it was not made on the merits of the case.

"There are in the complaint," the decision reads, "many allegations of acts on the part of Hanna Elias which would result necessarily in a decree requiring her to make restitution of what she received from the plaintiff. The difficulty is that none of the allegations of the complaint respecting fraud, intimidation threats, coercion or black mail, is proven. The plaintiff himself, in his testimony, in court, said that he gave nothing to the defendant, Elias, under coercion, that all he gave was voluntarily given. It is also true that the plaintiff says that he gave large sums of money to Mrs. Elias 'to prevent anything of our relations coming out to the public,' but there was nothing in his testimony to indicate that there was any threat on the part of Mrs. Elias to expose those relations."

WARM WIRELETS.

At Greensville, S. C., yesterday Fletcher Byred, a negro, was hanged for the murder of Magistrate Cox, white in May, 1904. His accomplice Palmer Creswell was to have been hanged at the same time, but was respited at 12 o'clock Thursday night by the Governor. The killing was brought on through an attempted violation of the dispensary law.

At a meeting last night the Hebrews of Richmond, Va., subscribed nearly $1,000 to the fund for relief of their harrassed kinsmen across the seas, planned a thorough canvass of the city for further contributions, and took steps that will result in a memorial caling on the United States government to exert its great influence toward preventing for all time to come a recurrence of the atrocities in Russia.

A HOG OF HIMSELF

Commercial Traveler Tells How He Got Back His Self Respect

'TWAS KEELEY DID THE WORK

He Now Lives Like a Man and is Worth Something to Himself and Family—Whiskey Habit is Cured.

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

When a man has made a hog of himself five years of his life, and then lives ten years like a man, he hates to think of the wasted years and hesitates to publish to the world that once he had reached the bottom.

I have long wanted to add my testimony to that of the hundreds who have been put back in the "push" by your Institution. I shrunk from doing so partly on account of my children who are growing up and do not remember when I went home only to bring sorrow and tears.

It may be that a word or two from one who has gone the gait may convince some personal friend to use the means at his door to keep him out of the cemetery, or mad house, and his family out of the poor house.

I could write a book about my fight with "booze"—the lost position, the good resolutions, swearing off spells, joining temperance societies and church; and all the different phases of the disease, all too well known to the victims. I had abandoned hope, decided to commit suicide, having on two occasions bought the necessary drug.

I have never been able to account for it unless it was the hand of Almighty God that threw some of your literature my way; and, as a last resort, I headed for Greensboro early in the year 1894. I went there entirely of my own judgment, with the exception of a conversation with a friend, who had returned a new man, full of enthusiasm and praise.

My health was broken and nervous system in such a condition I could not write my name or sleep much. I was drinking about a quart a day, and had been constantly under the influence of whiskey about five years, of course sinking lower and lower in the business world and estimation of my friends, if I had any friends left.

I have never been sick a day since I left the Institution ten years ago. I have never taken a drop of any stimulant, and have thanked God every day since that I had the knowledge of the Institution brought to my attention, and the sense to avail myself of it.

I am a commercial traveler, making about all the towns in the Atlantic States, and would be glad to answer any letter from any friend who wants further evidence.

Man's Unreasonableness

is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble, "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist, price 50c. **
